2026!

- January 10 - MCRC Convention, Mandatory Teen meetup
- January 23 & 24 - State Overnighter, Prescott Valley and AZ GOP Convention

Yuma Teenage Republicans gathered for an evening filled with laughter, food, and mystery at their Mystery Murder Night!

Each participant came dressed for their assigned role, bringing creativity and enthusiasm to the evening. Hunter Ganoni was the first to correctly identify the murderer, while Justus Knizley was voted Best Costume for his impressive attention to detail. Livia Orlich earned the award for Best Character Performance, and Clara Orlich kept everyone guessing as she skillfully convinced nearly the entire group that she was the guilty party! Beyond the mystery and awards, the night was a great opportunity for members to relax, share laughs, and get to know one another better outside of meetings and projects. Events like this help strengthen friendships and build teamwork—important qualities for young leaders who care about their community and their country. The Yuma Teenage Republicans are already looking forward to their next fun social gathering!

We have gotten great feedback from NFRW leadership about our youth initiative & are excited to continue conversations! AzFRW incoming 3rd VP Ways & Means, Yendi Parker, pictured with NFRW President, Julie Harris.

Leadership Spotlight - Myles Liimatta

I am the chairman of the South East Valley Chapter of TARs. I've been involved in TARs since 2020 right when everything started to go haywire. Then, I had really no interest in politics, simply just my basketball career. As I approach collegiate aspirations, I realized my focus had become to narrow. I decided to recommit to TARs and have a fulfilling last year of high school. I work two jobs, one at a Marriott hotel and the other at Lifetime fitness center. I am in my schools speech's and debate club as well as a board member for one of TPAction's coalitions. I am very involved at my church and in my community. I love what I do, and at the heart of all that is my love for Christ. He is the center of my service and I believe He will take me down paths I never dreamed of venturing. I have aspirations of becoming a Naval Officer through college and enlistment and after that, well I guess I'll have to see where God takes me. Have a happy fall, and enjoy all this nice AZ weather which we have waited for. The grueling summer is over!
